About Term Work:

Assignments are to be done in teams of 2 (except for A0 which is to be done individually) and are due by 5:59 p.m. on the due date. Each team has a total of four “grace days” for the team assignments, but a maximum of 2 days can be used for any single assignment. Any fraction of a day of lateness will be rounded UP to the nearest integer number of days (thus assignments that are from 1 minute late to 23 hours, 59 minutes late will consume 1 grace day). Late assignments will receive a mark of zero once the grace days have been used up. Your grace days are a precious resource; use them wisely to manage your workload.

In the event of an illness or other catastrophe, get proper documentation (e.g., medical certificate), and contact me (by phone, email or in person) as soon as possible. Do not wait until the due date has passed. It is always easier to make alternate arrangements ahead of time.

Policy on Cheating/Plagiarism:

Don't. Let me say it again: Don't. The policy of your faculty or school will be in effect. [See <http://www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/ofr/calendar/rules.htm#behaviour>] Refer also to Francois Pitt's “Guidelines for Avoiding Plagiarism, which can be found online at <http://www.cs.toronto.edu/~fpitt/documents/plagiarism.html> . You are encouraged to discuss concepts, assigned readings, and the use of the tools with your classmates, however, all work that you submit must be your own. When you submit an assignment with your name on it, you are certifying that you have done the work on that assignment yourself. Remember that the penalty for cheating is always worse than handing in the assignment late. If you are struggling with an assignment, talk to the instructor or the TA. We want to help you be successful.

Policy on Re-marking:

Simple questions (e.g., wrong addition of marks) and requests for clarification should be discussed with the TA. Requests for re-marking any part of an assignment must be directed first to the instructor. A request must be in written form as a cover letter containing specific points and the entire assignment (and marking) must be re-submitted at that time, as hard-copy and if applicable, in electronic form. Re-marking may involve the entire piece of the work, and may raise or lower the mark. The deadline for making a request for re-marking will typically be 1 week after the marked assignment is available for hand-back.

Email policy:

Any email to the course instructor should be addressed to “demke@cs.toronto.edu”. Make sure to include an informative subject line (i.e., “CSC469: file permission problem” vs. “URGENT PROBLEM”), your full name, and your cdf login id. Always check the bulletin board and course web page for announcements first; your question may have already been answered.
