Given a finite string $S$ of different characters sorted in increasing order, write a program to print the strings $(S_0 \leftrightarrow S)$ in the following order: shorter strings come before longer strings; strings of equal length are in string (alphabetical, lexicographic) order.