Subsection 7.1.5 presented program-tree theory.

(a) Implement the theory, storing all node values in a data structure.
(b) Transform the implementation so that an assignment to \( \text{node} \) does not update the main data structure used for storing the node values; that update occurs when you \( \text{go} \) from a node.

no solution given