Job Posting – Teaching Assistant Position (CUPE 3902, Unit 1)
Fall 2026 term (September 1, 2026 – December 31, 2026 (or up to January 11, 2027))

Posted on June 8, 2026 as a regular posting.

The Department of Computer Science seeks 4 TA(s) for the following course: CSC110Y1F – Foundations of Computer Science I.

Visit link for course description: <https://artsci.calendar.utoronto.ca/course/csc110y1f>

Position Code and Position Title

CSC110Y1F-A: Foundations of Computer Science I - Classroom TA

Qualifications

Must be enrolled in, or have completed, an undergraduate or graduate program in Computer Science. Must have strong knowledge of the Python programming language, including: the Python memory model and standard library; basic data structures (stacks, queues); object-oriented programming; software testing; and using a Python debugger. Must have strong knowledge of discrete mathematics and formal proof, including: propositional and predicate logic; writing formal proofs; formal definitions of asymptotic bounds and running time analysis. Computation-based math courses, introductory programming courses or limited programming experience is NOT sufficient. This course has specific in-person, on-campus requirements as listed in the "Duties" section; please only apply if you can meet the availability criteria.

Relevant Criterion

Previous experience is the more relevant criterion than the need to acquire experience in respect of this posted position.

Duties

All duties are in person unless otherwise indicated. Classroom TAs will be assigned at five or more consecutive weeks of lecture for one of the two lecture sections of CSC110Y1 (see the University's Timetable Builder for section times: <https://ttb.utoronto.ca/> ). For their assigned weeks, TAs will attend lecture in-person and assist with active learning and moderating and participating in an online chat; they may also assist with preparation of lecture materials. Other responsibilities can include: holding office hours; answering questions on the online discussion forum; assisting with assessment preparation and proofreading; grading student work, including assignments and tests. All TAs must have access to a computer and a reliable high-speed Internet connection to complete assigned work. TAs must be able to install course software such as Python; a tablet computer such as a Chromebook or iPad is NOT sufficient. TAs must be available for in-person course team meetings during regular business hours.

This course also requires all TAs to be available to mark the final exam in-person during regular business hours. The final exam date is determined by the Faculty of Arts & Science and may be scheduled between December 10 – 22, 2026. The exam schedule is released in November 2026. Every effort will be made to schedule and complete the exam marking within 5 business days after the final exam date. TAs may be required to complete grading January 6-11, 2027 if the exam is scheduled during the last few days of the exam period. The University is closed for the holiday break between December 24, 2026 – January 5, 2027.
