Job Posting - Teaching Assistant Position – CUPE 3902, Unit 1
Fall 2026 term (August 17, 2026 – October 31, 2026)

Posted on June 8, 2026 as a Regular Posting

The Department of Computer Science seeks ~3 TAs for the following course:

CSC2702HF– Technical Entrepreneurship - Scientific Communication Module

Module Description: The course introduces fundamental concepts from scientific communication. The content of the module covers writing a research publication, it includes research writing principles, creating figures and tables, writing methods, presenting results and discussions, and finally the abstract and title.

Qualifications

The chosen candidate must be familiar with academic and scientific writing and have publication experience. Ideally, the incumbent will have knowledge and experience of writing and revising drafts of research papers, crafting research abstracts and titles, conducting literature reviews and experiments, creating figures and tables, presenting research (i.e. poster and oral presentations), and the submission and review process. The incumbent should demonstrate maturity and have strong English writing and oral communication/presentation skills. Previous TA experience is an asset.

Relevant Criterion

Previous experience is the more relevant criterion than the need to acquire experience in respect of this posted position.

Duties

Duties will be primarily marking, hosting group discussions, mentoring students on their research publication, and meeting/emailing with the professor for guidance and to get feedback. TA responsibilities involve giving feedback to three homeworks on writing research, which also have a peer-review component, taking attendance, and office hours (or communication) with students. Note the duties start early – August 17, 2026 and ends October 31, 2026.
