EEB125H1S - Introductory Computation and Data Science for the Life and Physical Sciences

Visit link for course description: <https://artsci.calendar.utoronto.ca/course/eeb125h1>

This term we are only searching for an automated testing TA for this course

Qualifications

Academic background in Computer Science, Mathematics or Statistical Sciences is required. Additional academic background in the humanities is an asset, as is experience working in interdisciplinary academic contexts. Familiarity with applying computational and statistical methods in a life or physical sciences context, previous TA experience in courses that cover introductory statistics and computer programming topics are preferred.

Relevant Criterion

Previous experience is the more relevant criterion than the need to acquire experience in respect of this posted position.

Duties

Duties may include: assisting in the development of questions, solutions, and grading schemes for course assessments, including weekly prep exercises, assignments, and tests. May hold office hours, answer student questions on the course discussion board, and help coordinate and prepare other EEB125 TAs for doing the same. They may also help supervise and coordinate assessment grading.

This course requires all TAs to be available to mark the final exam together in-person. The final exam date is determined by the Faculty of Arts & Science and may be scheduled between Apr. 9-29. The exam schedule is released in March 2026. Every effort will be made to schedule and complete the exam marking within 7 business days after the final exam date. TAs may be required to complete grading May 1-8, 2026 if the exam is scheduled during the last 7 days of the exam period.
